Title	Perception vs. Reality	Expectation, Choices, and Consequences	Stepping Into a Different Perspective
End of Unit Performance Task(s)	Argument Students will select an essential question and use the required text to answer the question while citing evidence from works read.	Literary Essay The student will write a literary essay to demonstrate his or her ability to independently read and comprehend a range of sufficiently complex texts, to write effectively when using and analyzing sources, and to build and present knowledge through integration, comparison, and synthesis of ideas.	Research Students will research a current social issue. They will synthesize information from a variety of sources in MLA format, demonstrating their understanding of the issue and its impact on society.
Essential Questions/ Essential Understandings	How do science fiction authors explore societal issues within dystopian texts? or How does conflict shape identity? Students will understand the definition of a coming-of-age novel, rites of passage, and analyze how events in a young person's life can shape one's identity.	 What is the American Dream? Is the American Dream attainable for everyone? Students will evaluate what the American Dream is and identify how it changes with the Great Depression and migrant workers. Why is empathy an important human characteristic? Students will compose a comparative essay analyzing how characters demonstrate empathy. Analyze how a text makes connections among and distinctions between individuals, ideas, or events (e.g., through comparisons, analogies, or categories). 	 How does society shape an individual's life? Using researched works, students will develop a topic of discussion in respect to a controversy and/or technology influencing society. How are people shaped by their relationships with others? Students will consider how an author shapes the perspective of the reader, specifically how the text's point of view affects the reader's opinion of characters, conflict, and theme.
