Guest speaker Dr. Lori Volpe, Ph.D., Autism Coordinator, Birch Family Services

In this workshop, you will learn strategies to identify why your child is using a behavior and determine the best practice to address it. Some behaviors are typical and others not. Learn when you should seek outside help and what therapy works best for specific behavior problems. Dr. Volpe has over 25 years' experience working with children and adults with Autism and other developmental disabilities in educational, residential and vocational settings as well as providing consulting services to agencies and schools on Long Island and Queens and via her own private practice. Come and join us as we share what exciting events and programs we have lined up for the year. Everyone is welcome, bring a friend.
