Skills for Success
What Parents Need to Know About Executive
Function & Growth Mindset.

Presenter: Cindy Goldrich, Ed.M, ADHD-CCSP
ADHD Parent Coach & Teacher Consultant

Research has shown us that how we perceive our ability to learn dramatically impacts our confidence, motivation, and perseverance. This presentation explores the basics of Executive Function and lessons of Growth Mindset that all parents and educators need to know to improve student's motivation to learn and willingness to face learning challenges. We will explore how to best help children see themselves as learners and how to best support them in developing perseverance in the face of difficulty.
