Themes

Session 1: "Upside Down World" - July 12-16

What's up is down and what's down is up. Make sure to zip your pockets and see what happens when you create art that defies gravity. Study LA skateboarding artist Mike Dempsey, as he uses digital photography to send you airborne. Watch Alex Chinneck suspend, as he rips up the street, inverts cars and melts buildings.

Session 2: "Patchwork Extravaganza" - July 19-23

Inspired by American Textile designers and quilters Ursula Radford and Luke Haynes. Create your own unique patchwork patterns and use them as pieces of your paintings, drawings, and printed artworks. Bring your best recycled fabric on Monday for a battle of the classes patchwork quilt.

Session 3: "Candy Explosion" - July 26-30

Swim through a sea of skittles and walk through a forest of cotton candy trees. Illustrate, paint and sculpt a world made of candy. Watch out for the rainbow giraffe and critters who ate too much candy. Virtually visit Candytopia, a traveling candy art installation overflowing with sweets. Discover Laura Benjamin's famous candy wrapper portraits.

Session 4: "Masters of Illusion" - Aug 2-6

What's in your perspective! Study the art of Julian Beever and learn to use perspective to design a world of impossibilities. See how this amazing street artist creates the realistic illusion of sidewalks splitting open to reveal another dimension and sharks jumping out of a brick sidewalk. Paint, illustrate, and sculpt a world of unexpected encounters.

Session 5: "Steam Punked" - Aug 9-13

Fasten, tighten and couple nuts, bolts, metal, and shiny surfaces for a week of Steam Punked art. Build, paint, and illustrate animals and people with bionic powers. Study Steam Punk sculptor Susan Beatrice and Illustrator Jeff Haynie, as they create a magical world of industrial style art.

(BRING A BAG OF SMALL METAL OBJECTS LIKE SCREWS, NUTS AND BOLTS ON MONDAY)
