Presenter: Dana Slackman MS Ed, BCBA, LBA TSHH

Ms. Slackman is a Behavioral Consultant with the Great Neck Public Schools and owner of Dana Slackman Licensed Behavior Analyst PC, located in Commack NY

Children have a reason to behave the way that they do. Our children engage in millions of different behaviors each day. The reasons or functions for doing these different behaviors fall into four main categories.

Mrs. Slackman will discuss the four main functions that lead our children to continue and maintain their behaviors. She will also discuss ways that parents and caregivers can identify these reasons or functions so that they can address behaviors in a more effective way.
