A Training for Parents of Students

Transitioning to College

This training will review what to consider when planning for college for a student with a disability. In order to prepare students to succeed in college, it is important to understand the importance of self-advocacy and the level of supports and services students receive in high school vs. post-secondary education. The goal of this training is to learn about the important skills, considerations and supports that can help make students' transition to college seamless and successful.
