

National History Day Resources

American Journeys - American Journeys contains more than 18,000 pages of eyewitness accounts of North American exploration, from the sagas of Vikings in Canada in AD1000 to the diaries of mountain men in the Rockies 800 years later.

<http://www.americanjourneys.org/>

Europeana Collections - Explore 58,059,820 artworks, artifacts, books, films and music from European museums, galleries, libraries and archives <https://www.europeana.eu/portal/en>

Library of Congress - The Library of Congress is the largest library in the world, with millions of books, recordings, photographs, newspapers, maps and manuscripts in its collections. The Library is the main research arm of the U.S. Congress and the home of the U.S. Copyright Office.

<https://www.loc.gov/>

National History Day Resources - links to organizations, museums, government agencies that will help you find information and primary documents for your project.

<https://www.nhd.org/student-resources>

National Archives - An archives is a place where people can go to gather firsthand facts, data, and evidence from letters, reports, notes, memos, photographs, and other primary sources. The National Archives is the U.S. Government's collection of documents that records important events in American history. The National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) is the Government agency that preserves and maintains these materials and makes them available for research.

<https://www.archives.gov/education/history-day/online.html>

New York State Archives - The New York State Archives preserves and makes accessible over 250 million records of New York's State and colonial governments dating from 1630 to the present. Provides help in selecting topics for research and primary documents to enhance your research project.

<http://www.archives.nysed.gov/research/researcher-services-overview>

New York Historical Society - <https://www.nyhistory.org/>

Our Documents - explore 100 milestone documents of American history. These documents reflect our diversity and our unity, our past and our future, and mostly our commitment as a nation to continue to strive to "form a more perfect union."

<https://www.ourdocuments.gov/index.php?flash=false&>

Suggested databases log on through Clever to find articles, journals, newspapers and help with topic selection. These databases should be used to provide information and background knowledge about your subject. They are written by scholars and professionals providing you with insight into your research topic.

Gale: General Reference Gold

Gale: U.S. History

Gale: Military Intelligence

ABC-CLIO: American Government Issues

Gale: World History

Gale: War on Terrorism

Gale: Criminal Justice

Proquest: History Study Center